

Parent/carer information newsletter - May 17th 2019

National Tests

National tests in Reading and Maths Reasoning have now been completed. This year, the Maths Procedural tests are online and pupils access these through the Hwb network. These tests didn't have to be taken during the test period. These will be completed in the next few weeks during classtime. Classes will have to sit these tests at different times due to the ICT needed.

Pupils must have returned the permission slip for them to access Hwb online for tests and resources.

Attendance -class of the week

Each week in Celebration Assembly, we celebrate the classes with highest attendance. The best attending class this week is Dosbarth Rhossili, Dosbarth Tresaith and Dosbarth Abersoch they can wear non-uniform next Thursday 23rd May instead of Friday. Next Friday 24th May will be a Mufti day for the whole school as it is the end of half term.

New Curriculum for Wales

The draft curriculum for Wales 2022 is now available and a guide to the new curriculum is available online on www.hwb.gov.wales.

This guidance contains information on the structure and components of Curriculum for Wales 2022, the approach to progression, and how the curriculum must be inclusive for all learners.

Parent/carer engagement sessions

This term, these sessions have replaced the class assembly. We would welcome your feedback in order to plan parental events next year. Some of you have expressed your opinions to staff. Please complete the slip at the end of this letter when you have attended the event for your child.
