Arrangements regarding the start of spring term January 2022

Dear parents/carers

The Welsh Government and Minister for Education has announced today that all schools in Wales will now remain closed for two days in January at the start of the spring term in light of the uncertainty regarding the impact of Omicron. Welsh Government has advised that these days will be for planning and preparation for schools to assess staffing capacity and put necessary measures in place to support the return of pupils.

As we have an INSET day for staff planned on Tuesday 4th January, the planning days will be on Wednesday 5th and Thursday 6th January. This means that all children will return to school on Friday 7th January.

We will be reviewing our risk assessment before the return of pupils in January reflecting the probable 'very high' risk level at the start of term. We will continue to work closely with the Local Authority on these arrangements and will communicate with you before children return on Friday, 7th January.

We have really appreciated all the support families have given us so far this year. These are anxious and uncertain times for all of us but the most important thing is that we continue to work together to keep our children safe and learning.

Take care and best wishes.
