Introducing Family Maths Mission!

We're thrilled to launch Family Maths Mission, a monthly activity for families to enjoy together at home. Each mission highlights how math is part of everyday life, making it fun and meaningful.

Many parents and carers have told us they didn't enjoy learning maths growing up, and we know that this can affect how children feel about it, too. Our missions are designed to help you show your children that maths is something to explore and enjoy, building their confidence along the way.

Every family who completes a mission will be entered into a raffle to win a family prize. To join, simply send in your work, snap a photo, or tag us on the school's Twitter account. Let's blast off on this maths adventure together!

This week's Maths Mission is at the end of this newsletter.

Support your child with Maths Parental Session – Friday, 15th November 9am

Join Mrs Howells for an informal session looking at ways to support your children learning maths.

Mega Maths Monday – Monday, 18th November – Non-Uniform Day to raise maths money!

Practical Maths is a focus for the School Development Plan this term and we need more classroom resources. We will raise funds towards these resources by inviting children to come to school in non-uniform for a donation of £1 on Monday 18th November to help us purchase these resources.

PTA Christmas Raffle

This year, PTA will be selling raffle tickets at the enterprise sale and at Christmas concerts. There will be hampers available to win at each event!

To help with prizes for our raffle, Friday 29th November will be a non-uniform day. Instead of bringing money, we are asking for the children to bring a donation for our raffle. Hampers will be made with these donations, and classes have been assigned a colour (see right). If you are donating food or drink

Dosbarth Pebble (Nursery)	Red
Reception (Mrs Jarman)	Orange
Year 1 (Mrs Maguire)	Yellow
Year 2 (Mrs Cornwell)	Pink
Year 3 (Mrs Howells)	Blue
Year 3/4 (Mr Phillips)	Purple
Year 4/5 (Mrs Brettell)	Green
Year 5 (Miss Smith)	Silver/Gold
Year 6 (Mr Edwards)	Red

items, please ensure these have a long best before date (at least end of January 2024); alternatively, you can donate non-food items, for example Christmas decorations, small toys etc.

The PTA are always grateful for any donations of raffle prizes - if you've got a spare bottle of booze or more chocolate than you're likely to eat, please think of us! Or if you're a business owner or can persuade your boss to donate a prize, we'd also be very appreciative.

What Children & Young People Need to Know about

FREE VS HATE SPEECH

Everyone in the UK has the right of "freedom of expression". That's the right to voice your opinions and share information and ideas with others. It's not the right to say whatever you want without regard for others' feelings and values. We all have a responsibility to use this right properly: being respectful and inclusive to others. Whether online or offline, communication attacking or discriminating against groups or individuals (because of protected characteristics like race or religion) is hate speech, not free speech.

Free speech is a person's legal right to share information, opinions and ideas without fear of retaliation, censorship or legal consequences. This freedom of expression is recognised in international human rights legislation, and here's what it does for us in our day-to-day lives ...

The Human Rights Act 1988 states that everyone has the right to express themselves freely – even if their views are unpopular and might offend others.

Freedom of expression encourages listening to others and allowing opposing views to be heard. It's important to respect someone's opinion, even if we disagree with it. Free speech lets us engage in meaningful discussions with people who feel differently.

Any concept could potentially offend someone. Galileo's ideas were incredibly offensive to many at the time, while not everyone agrees with Darwin's theory today. Freely exchanging ideas promotes progress.

Free speech allows us to engage people we disagree with in a debate. The ability to challenge others' views is healthy – while having ours challenged helps us learn how to deal with criticism and think deeply about what we say and believe.

Free speech is a powerful tool for change, justice and reform. Many modern UK rights – such as women being allowed to vote or decent working conditions – couldn't have been achieved without it.

Freedom of expression includes the right not to do something, like not standing up for – or singing – the national anthem. Even though some people would find that offensive, it isn't illegal.

Hate speech refers to any communication – like talking, texting or posting online – which displays prejudice against someone's identity. Derogatory, demonising and dehumanising statements, threats, identity-based insults, offensive name-calling and slurs would all count as hate speech. Here are some common forms it takes ...

Targeting people or groups because of who they are – including but not limited to aspects such as race, sexuality, religion or a disability – and verbally abusing them with slurs and name-calling. The Equality Act 2010 has more information on this.

Content that dehumanises people based on those same attributes: referring to them as if they were animals, objects or other non-human entities, for example.

Calling for violence or hatred against certain people or groups and justifying and glorifying those actions.

Claiming that specific types of people are physically, mentally or morally inferior (or even that they are criminals) to encourage others to view them in the same way.

Making up or repeating insults about a person or group because something about their identity is different to the person who's posting.

Promoting the segregation of certain groups, or discrimination against them, because of who they are.

Symmetrical Insects

Why not try making your own symmetrical insect!

You could also try using sticks/stones!

Have you ever noticed that insects are symmetrical?

Bees, butterflies, ants, cockroaches, flies and beetles all have bilateral symmetry; this means they have two sides that are the same. If you draw a line through the middle of their bodies you will spot that one side is like a mirror image of the other side.

Why is this maths?

You'll be investigating reflection and symmetry as you design and create your insects.

Symmetrical Insects

What to do:

1. Fold a piece of paper in half.

2. Draw half of your insect next to the crease you have just made.

3. You might want to go over it in a dark coloured pen/felt tip. (This will help with the next step!)

4. Turn the folded paper over and hold it against a window. You should see your insect drawing.

5. Carefully trace over your insect using a pencil.

6. Open the paper out and if using a pen/felt tip, draw over the rest of your insect.

7. Decorate and colour your insect. Remember, anything you design on one side you must repeat on the other side.

8. Ta-Dah! You have a symmetrical insect!
